

Conventional Commits

A specification for adding human and machine readable meaning to commit messages